

systematic subdivision of human beings who for example are fond of music in the three different categories composer, performer and audience: isn't it dogmatically prescriptive, therefore misanthropic unfriendly – unimaginative?

István Zelenka